

We help you take the lead in mobile imaging

Scalado professional services

Developing the world's best imaging applications

scalado™

Get the best

out of mobile imaging

Dedicated to giving you an imaging advantage

Scalado helps your company take the lead in mobile imaging by offering world-leading mobile imaging solutions. Using Scalado's CAPS Software Development Kit and by employing our professional services, device manufacturers can differentiate their products by offering a full range of fun and high performing digital camera functions.

We offer a Best-In-Class portfolio of imaging products and expertise that is guaranteed to drastically reduce your unit costs and time to market, and give your users a truly unique set of possibilities for capturing, creating and communicating with high-resolution, high quality images.

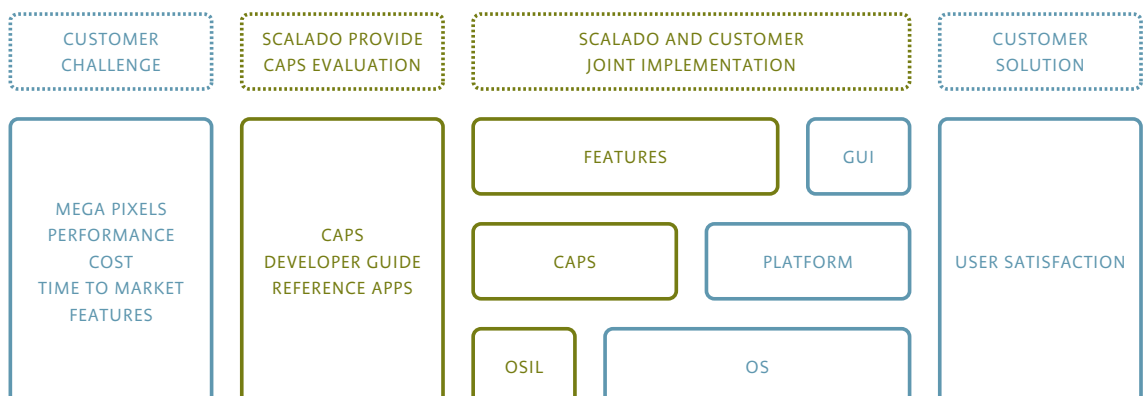

Seeing is believing

Scalado helps device manufacturers get one step in mobile imaging by offering a complete Scalado CAPS evaluation kit. The kit gives you access to our demo applications for Capturing, Editing and Viewing, which enables you to benchmark and evaluate performance and features on your own device.

CAPS is already prepared for Symbian, Windows Mobile and Linux environments. Scalado can help you port to any Real Time Operating System (RTOS).

Scalado makes sure your imaging solutions performs

Scalado solutions are the response to our customers challenges.

Helping you every step of the way

All the support you need, from pre-study to training

Whatever assistance you need, and at whatever stage in development, we can help you develop the world's best imaging applications:

Pre-study

We can provide imaging engineering experts and advisors to help you explore exactly what is feasible for the target device, and what's not within the financial and timeline limitations you have set yourself.

Porting

We ensure applications developed using our products run on the target platform and Operating System. We support any platform and OS including TI, Intel, Philips, Symbian and proprietary OS

Integration

We help you make sure all imaging solutions developed in CAPS interact with all other hardware/software components, such as other applications, DSPs, camera sensors, etc.

Optimization

We squeeze and optimize applications to make sure they run as efficiently as possible on target device.

Application Development

Either together with in-house engineers, or as a separately managed project we can help deliver a complete, ready to deploy application.

Customization

We can customize our products to any and all specific requirements, such as User Interfaces, etc.

Porting of CAPS Demo Applications

We can port demo applications onto a target device for you to evaluate the possibilities our applications bring to mobile devices. We can port applications how you want when you want.

Feature Development

We can develop any product specific feature you like. This could range from new applications or even new features such as new filters, exciting effect, etc.

Training and Support

We provide top-class documentation that makes it extremely easy to develop applications using CAPS and our feature modules. We can also offer a full range of support services from dedicated engineers for trouble shooting and optimization to telephone support as and when you need it. We offer training courses on all aspects on our products on demand.

Leading-edge imaging expertise

Scalado offers first-class professional services to help your company deliver truly unique applications to your customers that put you ahead in mobile imaging. Our team of dedicated experts can help your company in areas such as application development, integration and optimization, project management, or as a bank of imaging specialists for you to draw expertise from.

Customized for your specific needs

Our dedicated team of professionals is always on hand to support your R&D department and help them produce truly unique imaging applications for your customers.

We help you customize our products so you offer the best possible imaging experience in a camera phone. Whether you need dedicated development professionals to work on site, professional support, or assistance with application testing, we can help you anywhere in the world at any time.

Our job is to help you launch products that contain the absolute best that imaging can offer. Through optimizing imaging applications we reduce your material costs and ensure reliable product launches and a faster time-to-market.

Our products are proven, our expertise second to none and our commitment to making your imaging products the best in the business is unwavering. Contact our Professional Services team who will do their best to ensure your success in developing an imaging advantage for your company.

Gain a first mover advantage

Our job is to help you develop services that outstrip anything you could expect from a high-end digital camera, and port them to a camera phone. We aim to give you a first mover advantage through lower costs and exciting imaging applications.

Contact sales@scalado.com or call us at +46 462864250 and we will be happy to explain more.

Our job is to help you launch products that contain the absolute best that imaging can offer
